

VITRO

Synopsis

Veronica, a driven young filmmaker desperate to escape Chicago's South Side, is pulled into a seductive underground world where desire and power are carefully controlled, offering her a way to fund both her dreams and her family's survival. She's drawn into an exclusive underground club where desire and power are carefully controlled.

Mentored by the enigmatic Jade and captivated by the club's commanding manager, Sami, she begins to transform, blurring the line between performance and identity. As the money flows and her ambitions accelerate, her relationships fracture and her sense of self begins to unravel. But when she discovers that the life she once obsessively watched was designed to lure her in, she realizes this was never random, she was chosen. Now trapped inside a dangerous love and a manipulative world, Veronica must decide if achieving her dream is worth losing herself completely.
